BEFORE Congress adjourned it donated $2,500,000 to the World's Fair by a vote of 131 to 81.

JAMES R. TUGGLE is now business manager of the Barbourville Herald. Here's success to him.

CONGRESS has adjourned, and the people of Kentucky pray that our State Legislature may soon do likewise. What a relief our honored solons could bring the people of the Commonwealth by so doing.

ADLAI STEVENSON, our own native Kentuckian, and the Democratic nominee for Vice President, was tendered a reception by the people of Louisville and the General Assembly at Frankfort last week.

MANAGER FRICK, of the Homestead mills, whose assassination was attempted a short time since, has resumed the active management of the affairs of the Carnegie company, and announces that all union men must quit the mills.

THE Winchester Sun has recently regaled herself in a brand new dress of finest fabric, and her pages now glisten with news that shine as the precious stones of Solomon's temple. Bill Adams deserves success, and here's hopin' he'll get lots of it.

TOM WATSON, who "writ a book" in which he charged Congressmen with drunkenness and other crimes, is pronounced an infamous liar by many of the accused, and at the next session of that body he may be called upon to "step down and out."

THE managers of the Mt. Sterling Gazette announce that they will soon start a daily paper to be independent in politics. After a few issues we fear that is about all the independence it will have, as that town, crowded as it is with newspapers, will hardly give a daily support.

LOUISVILLE was on Sunday again the scene of a bloody murder, and the town of New Albany, just opposite, tallied with another. It is hardly fair to expect the little Indiana town to keep up with her big sister on the Kentucky side in this "short stop" industry, but she may be able to hold her own for a while.

THE speech of Senator Carlisle on tariff reform, delivered in the U. S. Senate recently, is said to have been the finest array of facts and figures ever promulgated before the American public. Thousands of copies of the speech will be distributed shortly that all may see and know whither we are drifting under protection.

Judicial Mass Conventions.

Pursuant to a call of the chairman of the Democratic County committee the Democrats of Wolfe county met in Mass convention, in the town of Campton, on the 6th day of August, 1892, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the District convention to be held in the town of Beattyville on the 12th day of August, 1892, for the purpose of making candidates to make the race for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney in the 23d Judicial District of Kentucky, and the house was called to order by the County Chairman, J. C. Lykins, who explained the object of the meeting.

Next came the permanent organization which resulted as follows: W. B. Duff, permanent chairman; H. F. Pieratt, permanent secretary.

On motion of J. C. Lykins the Chair appointed C. C. Hanks, John M. Rose, John A. Taulbee, S. S. Combs, W. A. Byrd, John Cox, A. F. Byrd, J. Creech, A. T. Combs and Jonas Vansant as a Committee on Resolutions. The committee reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, 1. That S. S. Combs, Jonas Vansant, J. A. Taulbee, C. C. Hanks, A. F. Byrd, J. C. Lykins, Rollin Kash, H. F. Pieratt, A. H. Stamper, John Cox, G. B. Swan, W. A. Byrd and A. T. Combs be and they are hereby appointed delegates to the general convention at Beattyville, Ky., to be held on the 12th day of August, 1892, and that they be instructed to cast the vote of Wolfe county in said convention for the Hon. T. C. Johnson, of Wolfe county, for Circuit Judge, and use all honorable means to secure his nomination so long as his name is before the convention.

2. That the above named delegates be and they are hereby instructed to cast the votes of Wolfe county in said convention for Hon. J. M. Kash, of Wolfe county, for Commonwealth's Attorney, and use all honorable means to secure his nomination so long as his name is before said convention.

3. That said delegates be instructed to vote as a unit upon all matters and questions arising in said convention as a majority present shall direct.

4. That the above thirteen delegates and no more shall be appointed to said convention.

5th. That the proceedings of this convention be published in all the Democratic papers in the 23d Judicial District of Kentucky.

The meeting then adjourned.

W. B. DUFF, Chairman.

H. F. PIERATT, Secretary.

At a meeting of the Democracy of Breathitt county in convention assembled at Jackson on Saturday, August 6, 1892, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the District convention for the 23d Judicial district, to be held at Beattyville August 12, 1892, pursuant to a call made by the County Chairman, the meeting was called to order by John Goff, chairman of the district and Breathitt county committees, when Dr. J. S. Park was chosen chairman and B. H. McQuinn secretary of the convention.

On motion it was ordered that Jacob Terry, I. B. Combs, C. O. Cardwell, J. J. C. Back, J. S. Park, Sam'l Patton, J. P. Gillum, John Goff, S. E. Patton, J. W. Cardwell, A. C. Baker, John Crawford, Wm. Bryant, J. W. South, Wm. Day, Wm. M. Combs, S. P. Williams, J. E. Campbell, B. H. McQuinn Ed Bowles, Robert Terry, G. P. McIntosh, John Evans, J. M. Allen, John Tevis and Jas. Strong be and they are hereby appointed delegates to said convention, to go uninstructed as to any candidate, but they are instructed to cast their vote as a unit on all questions coming before the convention, and to act for the best interests and the success of the party at the coming November election.

Resolved. That these proceedings be published in the Democratic papers of the district.

The meeting then adjourned.

J. S. PARK, Chairman.

B. H. McQUINN, Secretary.

J. O. Hall, the artist, expects to leave for Ezel in a few days. He is an expert at his trade and did some good work while at West Liberty as can be done by anybody. His prices are very low for the quality of work he does.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5, 1892.

The boldness of certain men in coming to the capital of the United States to obtain recruits for a revolutionary movement in a neighboring country governed by a nation with which we are on friendly terms is astonishing, but it is nevertheless true that men well supplied with money are here and will remain here until after the G. A. R. encampment is held, their object being to obtain volunteers among the veterans who will attend the encampment, for a revolutionary movement, which is claimed to be already strongly organized and well backed financially, for the overthrow of Spanish rule in Cuba. This movement, I am informed by an ex-Confederate officer who has been approached by the revolutionary agents, has nothing to do with the much talked of annexation of Cuba to the United States, but is for the establishment of an independent republic in Cuba. The greatest secrecy is maintained by these men, some of whom were on both sides in the late war in this country, and it was only by accident that I discovered what they are here for.

The World's Fair appropriation is still the Congressional bone of contention, and although a Democratic caucus has decided to allow a vote to be taken on a separate bill appropriating $2,500,000 instead of the $5,000,000 carried by the Senate amendment, it is by no means certain that it will be settled on that basis. A word from the leaders in the Senate would cause the friends of the larger appropriation to filibuster against the smaller one, which if passed by the House may not be accepted by the Senate. There are 142 absent members of the House, and although attempts are being made to get them here there is little prospect of success.

It is often said that the old "States Rights" doctrine was killed by the result of the late war, but all the same it continues to "bob up serenely" every once in a while in Congress, in a decision handed down by the Supreme Court, or in some other unexpected quarter, and it could not very well have come from a more unexpected quarter than from Senator Sherman, who gave as one of three reasons why the Senate should not pass the resolution authorizing the investigation by a select committee of the Homestead troubles, that it was a matter with which the State of Pennsylvania was competent to deal. The Senate adopted the resolution, however, and a Senate committee will, during the recess, endeavor to get nearer to the bottom of the trouble than a similar committee from the House did.

By the way, that House committee has got itself into a wrangle over its report. After many rumors each contradictory of the other, the committee decided to submit a report on the evidence it took at Homestead, and Chairman Oates was authorized to prepare it. When it was prepared and submitted to the committee there was a big "kick," it was so severe in its arraignment of the strikers at the Carnegie Mills. Mr. Oates refused to modify it, and a majority of the committee refused to sign it, so that if it ever gets before Congress it will be as a minority report.

The Peoples party Congressmen deny that the result of the Alabama State election is a defeat for them. They claim that the Peoples party had no candidate in the field; that it was a fight between a regular Democratic candidate and a Democratic bolter, and say that the result of the National election will show the real strength of the Peoples party in Alabama as well as other Southern States. Republicans and Democrats in Congress regard the Alabama election as a black eye for the Peoples party, and they are correspondingly jubilant over it.

The Senate has passed a resolution authorizing the committee on printing to sit during the recess for the purpose of taking evidence in regard to the purchase of a site for a new Government printing office building.

Canadian retaliation was discussed at the last cabinet meeting, but only in a general way, and the impression is that President Harrison is inclined to give the Canadian government ample time to right the wrongs complained of by the owners of American vessels before he issues the retaliation proclamation, and that this intimation has been given the Canadian government through the British embassy here.

The Brazilian commission to the World's Fair is now in Washington en route to Chicago, where it will remain until the close of the exposition. Its members are much puzzled over the Congressional complication over the appropriation for the fair.

Truth About the Tariff.

Senator Carlisle's powerful and convincing speech on the tariff sounds effectively the keynote of the Democratic campaign. Upon the ground assumed by him, in his reply to Senator Aldrich, the Democracy of the nation can go forward confidently to the labors of the canvass. Mr. Carlisle discusses the question not in any narrow, demagogic or revolutionary spirit, but in the terse, simple and straightforward language desirable in the treatment of economic problems. His appeal is neither to passion nor to prejudice, but to the reason of his countrymen. He would have them consider their duty as citizens from the standpoint of their needs, their opportunities and their individual interests. His words are so moderate, his arguments so direct and illuminating, and his conclusions so clear that his effort will exercise a widespread educational influence. Mr. Carlisle's utterances ought to be scattered throughout the length and breadth of the land. The Democratic Congress committee and the National Democratic Campaign committee can in no way discharge more efficiently the duty laid upon them than by making arrangements to secure for the speech the largest obtainable publicity. Before November copies of it should be placed in the hands of every American voter.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Buying Timber on Red River.

M. H. Courtney, of Wisconsin, bought for the Atwater Lumber Company 1,000 standing trees from George Johnson, on Frozen Creek last Tuesday. His company is buying all the timber they can get on Red River, Wolfe county. They expect to erect a mill somewhere on Red River, perhaps at the mouth of Cat Creek. They are not ready yet to develop their timber in Breathitt. Mr. Courtney was in town Tuesday.—Jackson Hustler.
